

CTG Web News Volume VII, Issue 12

Sent: Tuesday, October 19, 2004 1:14 PM

CTG's Research Discussion Breakfast Rescheduled

Our 1st Research Discussion Breakfast has been rescheduled for Wednesday, November 3rd from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. at CTG, 187 Wolf Road, Suite 301. This is the first of a series of breakfasts that will provide attendees an opportunity to hear about and discuss research-in-progress on a variety of government IT topics.

The 1st discussion breakfast is entitled "Assessing Your Organization's Capability for IT Innovation." Deputy Director Anthony Cresswell will present the Center's work in developing a capability assessment model for information sharing and facilitate a discussion about current practices in capability assessment. Attendees will have the opportunity to react to the research findings and discuss how their agencies determine readiness to invest in new and innovative information technologies.

To participate in this Research Discussion Breakfast, sign up at <http://www.ctg.albany.edu/about/breakfasts>.