SPOTLIGHT ON

CTG authors "Theory to Practice" article on public sector knowledge networks

This article summarizes 15 years of CTG research into the challenges of cross-boundary knowledge and information sharing in government. It appears in the May/June 2009 issue of Public Administration Review's Theory to Practice, which features exchanges among scholars and practitioners assessing what prominent theories and research in their areas of expertise have to say about the challenges, choices, and opportunities facing public administration today.
