

CENTER FOR
TECHNOLOGY IN GOVERNMENT
UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

CTG Insights Exchange Series

This series explores emerging issues at the intersection of technology, governance, and public administration bringing together UAlbany students, faculty, researchers, and practitioners to share ideas, insights, and experiences that are shaping the future of government.

Scheduled Seminars

September 30 (Wed) at 10:00 - 11:30 a.m.

Frontier AI Models: The Future of Cybersecurity and Prospects for Government Information Technology

Panelists: Sanjay Goel (University at Albany), Jason Healey (Columbia University), Ben Spear (Chief Infrastructure & Security Officer, New York State Board of Elections), and Theresa Pardo (University at Albany)

Opening Remarks & Facilitation: Mila Gascó-Hernández (University at Albany) & Rey Koslowski (University at Albany)

October 21 (Wed) at 10:00 - 11:00 a.m.

The AI Data Paradox: Negotiating Tensions Between User Privacy and Comprehensive Training Data

Archana Krishnan (University at Albany)

November 18 (Wed) at 10:00 - 11:00 a.m.

Same Platform, Different Outcomes: Metadata Practices and Open Data Use

Kayla Schwoerer (Vrije Universiteit)

February 17 (Wed) at 10:00 - 11:00 a.m.

Citizens and Front-Line Workers in Digital Government: Administrative Burden and Discretion in Switzerland

Maja Hegemann (University of Bern)

March 17 (Wed) at 10:00 - 11:00 a.m.

Revisiting “What Makes a City Smart?”: A Multidimensional Framework in the Brazilian Context

Beatriz Lanza (Federal University of Paraná)

April 21 (Wed) at 10:00 - 11:00 a.m.

GovTech in Europe: Between Public Value, Digital Sovereignty, and the Question of Who Builds Tomorrow

Luca Bauer (University of Bremen)

Watch for future communications with event details, speaker information, and registration instructions!

www.ctg.albany.edu

slee-geiller@albany.edu
(Dr. Seulki Lee-Geiller)

518.442.3892

